The Appalachian Forest Heritage Area™s (AFHA) 2015 concert series presents Darrin Hacquard at the Darden Mill. Darrin will be joined by John Miller, Josh Wanstreet, and poet Kevin Chesser. Darrin Hacquard and John Miller play the kind of country music that invites one to re-evaluate their life, or pound a couple of cold ones. These veterans of the traditional music scene present songs of family history, loss, alcoholism, mental duress and hardship—offering hope and Pancake passed around a couple bottles of Evan Williams all night, but could still play and sing pretty good.

Kevin Chesser writes the kind of jarring poetry that came out before the beat generation got so disillusioned and exorbitant. Having just received his master's in poetry from West Virginia Wesleyan, this young man is definitely spitting game right now. Josh Wanstreet writes poetry with his Fender telecaster and a host of effects pedals, presenting original, trance inducing instrumentals, flavored by his vast interest in the world's psychedelic musics.

In addition, Hacquard encourages all who attend to wear a Halloween costume, and will be giving away a prize.

The Darden Mill is located at the corner of Railroad Ave & First St.
